

Cool Clear Water Buys H2Only

Cool Clear Water Group (CCWG) has recently acquired the business of its major WA competitor H2Only Water Purification Systems.

H2Only has a well established brand identity in both the WA commercial and domestic markets for water filtration systems. The business has been operating since 1995 and has demonstrated strong growth over the past few years.

Following the purchase of Billabong Water Management Company 18 months ago, this latest acquisition continues CCWG's growth strategy. We are now the largest provider of filtered water systems in WA.

CCWG's Managing Director Richard Bevan stated, "We are very excited at the business potential that H2Only will bring to the company overall. With H2Only now a part of the group, Cool Clear Water Group can offer its customers the best water filtration services and products available in the market."
